OrgHarvest launches Cannabis cultivation in Las Vegas with a glass greenhouse of 100,000 sqft to produce 450 pounds of Cannabis flower a week

Well Positioned for Strategic Growth in Next 12 Months

OrgHarvest's approach to growing with a high-tech custom Dutch glasshouse manufactured in the Netherlands offers a unique combination of advantages that is unmatched by competitors. Compared to the other cannabis options the company differentiate themselves by offering a building that can provide better quality flowers, pest-free flowers, and a stronger focus on developing strains and new products. It's estimated that the 100,000 square foot greenhouse will produce 450 pounds of cannabis flower a week generating annual sales of $64 million dollars after the second year.

The company continues to search for alliances with larger cannabis operations that want a foothold in the Las Vegas market that includes 45 million annual tourists. The company anticipates the greenhouse operation to be installed on 5 acres of land located in Las Vegas Nevada.

The company will distribute 450 pounds per week of cannabis through wholesale transactions to qualified marijuana establishments. The company will operate under stringent quality control processes with all the marijuana products to be distributed only after passing all state-required inspections by independent third-party testing facilities and internal inspections, before being provided to the end users.

OrgHarvest will not only strive to provide high-quality cannabis but produce it in the most sustainable manner using the latest farming and cultivating techniques and will be utilizing on-site power generation.

OrgHarvest is poised to become an industry leader in the cannabis industry. The target market for OrgHarvest comprises of retail stores, processors, and the 45 million tourists that visit Las Vegas and Reno/Lake Tahoe each year.
